

Gehlen Reinhard
Soc. 4.01.2 The Service

Gehlen by Gehlen

Publication date: May 15, 1972. First printing: 50,000 copies.
 Initial advertising budget: $50,000. World Book Club and foreign rights to 2 countries already sold. Third printing: 200,000 20 pages of black and white photographs.

The Service

*The Memoirs of General
 Reinhard Gehlen*

WORLD PUBLISHING
 TIMES SQUARE

Starting with THE SERVICE: The Memoirs of General Reinhard Gehlen, translated by David Irving. Because of this book, the entire historiography of World War II may have to be written. So startling and dramatic are its revelations, they cannot fail to embarrass governments, cast doubt on its leaders past and present, and underscore the fantastic power this former chief of German intelligence exercised in world affairs. It will sweep aside all competition in its drive to the top of the bestseller list.